early steps

I. General Guidelines and Principles

The following are general guidelines and principles that apply to both the process of gathering information and the documentation of that information on the IFSP form:

- The departmentally approved IFSP form must be used by Local Early Steps.

- The form may be filled out on the computer using the electronic version (see the following section for directions on using the form electronically), or it may be handwritten using the print version.

- If/when errors are made when completing the handwritten IFSP for an individual child, errors must be crossed out with a single line and initialled and dated by the author. Using whiteout or erasing is never permitted.

- The page number of each form must be filled in on the handwritten version of the IFSP as new pages are added. For example, the first page of each form should always be 1, if there is a need for more space or an update requiring a new form and another page of the form added, the number should be added in the blank "Page ___ of Form X."

- If an item on the IFSP is non-applicable, place "N/A" in that space, rather than leaving it blank. If a space seems to ask for unnecessary or redundant information, review the instructions to ensure you have correctly interpreted the intent of the item.

- If information needs to be changed to reflect updated information on the handwritten IFSP (i.e., address/telephone number, new sibling, etc.), insert a single line through the original information, record the new information and initial and date. A new page may need to be added if the form becomes too messy.

- The original IFSP will be placed in the child's record to ensure copies are legible.

- The service coordinator is responsible for ensuring that updated copies are provided to the family and other IFSP team members.

- Prior to obtaining signature(s) on the IFSP, the service coordinator is responsible for checking with the family to make sure what is written on the IFSP is what they had intended to be included.

- IFSP team members should use the family's words as much as possible or words/phrases that reflect what the family has said.

- IFSP team members should avoid the use of technical jargon and acronyms, both in writing the IFSP and in conversations with the family to develop the IFSP.

II. Using the eIFSP Forms – Electronic Version Notes

Before you begin to use the electronic version of the IFSP for the first time you must set Word's security level to enable macros. Open Word and select Tools, Macro, then Security… from the dropdown menus.
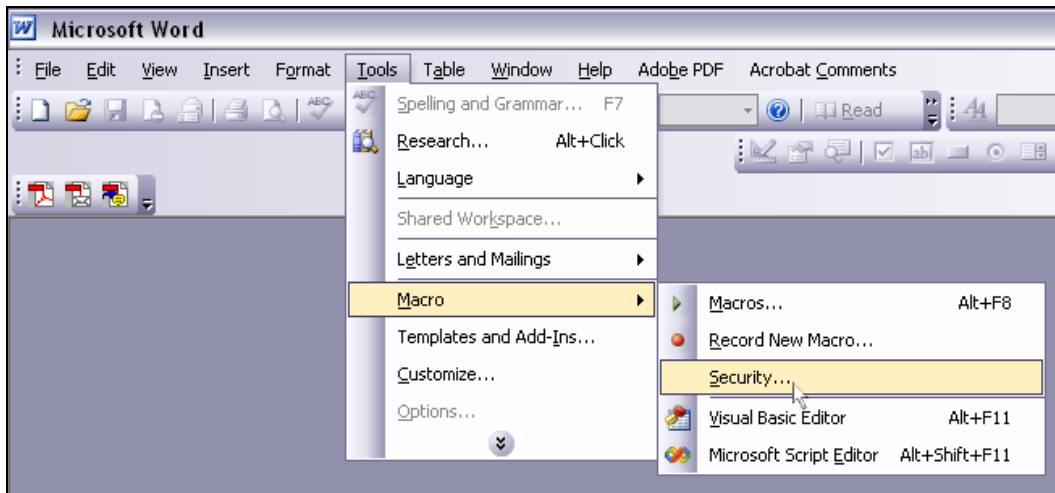

The Macro Security window will appear. On the Security Level tab, set security level to Medium.

This setting will allow you to selectively enable Macros for Word documents upon opening of the document.

Upon opening of the IFSP for data entry, a security warning will appear notifying you that the IFSP contains Macros. Select Enable Macros for the form to open and allow added functions to work.
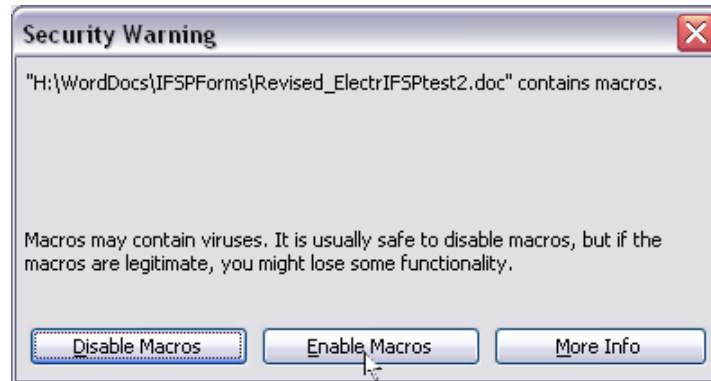

Added Features

The electronic version of the IFSP has several features. When the form loads initially, it checks itself to see if any fields have been filled out previously. During this process the window below will appear. It may take a few moments but will soon disappear.

If the "Initializing Fields" window has found previously filled form fields, the user is given the option to keep previous information or to clear the entire form and start fresh. If the user selects 'Yes' the form will take several moments to clear itself. You are now ready to begin entering information.

Please note: If you select 'Yes', all data will be lost.

If the user selects 'No', all previously stored information is kept and you are now ready to begin editing previously entered data.

*If no fields were previously filled, the "Clear IFSP Form?" window will not appear.
*It is recommended that the user Save As a new file name for each data-filled form. If you do not wish to wait for a form to clear for data entry, a blank form should be kept as a template.

Certain fields on IFSP Form A will automatically populate the heading fields of Forms B-I. When the Last Name field, for example, loses focus (Tab to or click another field) the form may appear to 'freeze' for a moment while it populates the rest of the form headings. Another important feature of the IFSP enables the user to type as much information as is necessary in any given field, automatically expanding the form and dynamically adding additional form pages with pre-completed, numbered headings.

Another point of note is the 'quick buttons'. Form F Your Family's Outcomes contains one of these 'magic green buttons' at the end of the form which will generate an additional blank outcomes form. The user may continue to generate as many outcomes as needed.

Add Another Outcome?

Similarly, forms G and H have 'quick buttons' which will add additional table rows as more information input is needed.

Add Row?

On a final note, it is strongly recommended (but not vital) that you select View, and then Print Layout for a 'more friendly' view of the form.

Form A: Your Family's Information

Purpose

This section of the IFSP

- provides basic demographic and contact information concerning the child and family referred to the Local Early Steps,

- lists contact information for the family regarding the Service Coordinator and Family Resource Specialist, and

- records important dates regarding the IFSP process.

Process

The service coordinator completes this form with the family during first contacts. Some information may have been obtained during the referral/ intake process and will need to be verified during first contacts.

Instructions for Completing Form A

Child's Name and AKA: Enter the child's full name (last, first, middle initial) and any aliases or nicknames (if applicable).

DOB (Date of Birth), Child's ID #, Gender: Enter the child's date of birth, the child's ID number that the Local Early Steps will use to identify the child in the data system or their social security number, and check the child's gender.

Child's Primary Language/Mode of Communication: English, Spanish, Creole, Other: Check the box or enter the language the child most often uses when communicating with others. If the child uses another mode of communication other than verbal, enter the mode of communication used (e.g. sign language). If the child is not yet using verbal language or another mode of communication, use N/A.

Check One: Parent, Guardian, Foster Parent, Surrogate Parent, Other: Name and Contact Information: Check the correct type of caregiver and enter the checked individual's name and contact information. If there is more than one caregiver, enter the second caregiver's contact information in the additional space provided.

The second area for caregiver information can also be used for child care providers, grandparents, etc. In that case, the "other" box would be checked and the relationship to the child listed in the space provided.

Note: It is not required to put the foster parent information on the IFSP. This should be determined on a family by family basis. There may be situations in which the foster parents/biological parents are working closely together and it is appropriate to have the information on the IFSP. Other situations may warrant that foster parent information be excluded from the IFSP.

Primary language used in home/mode of communication: English, Spanish, Creole, Other: Check the box or enter the language most commonly used in the home and/or any other mode of communication (e.g., sign language, Braille).

Is an interpreter needed for the family? Check the box whether an interpreter is needed for the family.

If so, what kind of interpreter? If so, enter the type of interpreter required.

The following people can help you with your questions and concerns:

Service Coordinator/Agency: Enter the name and contact information of the service coordinator that will be working with the family.

Family Resource Specialist: Enter the name and contact information of the family resource specialist that is available to assist the family.

Referral Date: Enter the month, date, and year that the referral for the child was received at the Local Early Steps.

Interim IFSP Date: Enter the month, date, and year only if an interim IFSP was developed in response to an immediate need for service(s) prior to the completion of the evaluation and/or assessment (for example, SHINE). If an interim IFSP is developed, Forms A, F, G, and H must be completed. Forms B and C will be completed to the extent possible, and Forms D and E will not be completed. Interim IFSPs should be rarely used.

Initial IFSP Date: Enter the month, date, and year the first (non-interim) IFSP meeting is held and the IFSP is developed. This is the date the initial IFSP is written, not the date an interim IFSP is written. This date should be entered in the Initial IFSP Date field in the data system ONLY for those children found eligible and for whom the entire IFSP is developed.

Barriers to Initial IFSP Compliance: There is not a specific space to indicate the reason for lack of compliance with the 45-day timeline to develop and hold the initial IFSP meeting. However, this is a required field in the data system and must also be documented in the case notes - if the initial IFSP date is more than 45 calendar days after the referral date. The appropriate barrier code listed in Operations Guide 12.3.5 may be entered next to the Initial IFSP Date at the discretion of the Local Early Steps. If an LES chooses this option, the purpose and explanation of this code must be discussed with the family.

Current IFSP Date: Enter the month, date, and year of the current meeting to develop the IFSP. For the first IFSP, this date should be the same as the initial IFSP date. This date should determine the projected date of the periodic review and the next annual meeting to evaluate the IFSP. This date should be entered in the Most Recent IFSP Date field in the data system.

IFSP Periodic Review Due Date: Enter the month, date, and year that a periodic review of the IFSP is due. This is a target date. No more than six-months can lapse between IFSP periodic reviews. Therefore, if a periodic review is conducted before the six-month target date, and addresses the above, the clock starts again on the requirement that an IFSP is reviewed at least every six-months. This does NOT affect the due date of the annual meeting to evaluate the IFSP.

Example:

Initial IFSP Date: January 1, 2010

Current IFSP Date: January 1, 2010

IFSP Periodic Review Due Date: July 1, 2010

IFSP Periodic Actual Review Date: April 1, 2010, October 1, 2010

Annual IFSP Due Date: January 1, 2011

If the periodic review actually occurs April 1, 2010, then the next review target date is October 1, 2010, in order for the IFSP to be reviewed in the every 6-month timeframe. October 1, 2010, is then entered as the date the next periodic review is due. The Annual Meeting to Review the IFSP due date would remain January 1, 2011.

IFSP Periodic Actual Review Date: Enter the month, date, and year of the actual IFSP periodic review. As explained above, there could be more than one date in this field. This date should be entered in the Most Recent IFSP Date field in the data system.

Annual IFSP Due Date: Enter the month, date, and year on which the annual meeting to evaluate the IFSP is due, no later than one year from the date the initial IFSP was written or no later than one year after the date of the previous annual evaluation of the IFSP meeting. The annual evaluation of the IFSP meeting can be held earlier than the one-year anniversary date, if necessary, but should not be held after that date. This is a target date. The actual date of the annual evaluation of the IFSP will be written on the new IFSP in the "Current IFSP Date" space. A new IFSP is always completed at the time of the annual evaluation of the IFSP meeting. This date should be entered in the Annual IFSP Due Date field in the data system.

Transition Conference Due Date: To the extent possible, the actual date of the transition conference should be scheduled to coincide with an IFSP meeting. This date can be entered as a specific date (e.g., 1/1/10) or a time frame (e.g., 1/1/10 - 10/1/10).

How to Use this Information

Form A is basically a cover page that should be kept current and used by the family, service coordinator, primary service provider, and other IFSP team members as a reference for contact information and upcoming important dates. Information on this form is updated as needed.

Recommendations for Evaluation and Assessment/Team Updates:

Rev. 11/1/2010

Form C: Your Family's Routines/Concerns/Priorities/Resources

Purpose

This section of the IFSP

- provides a snapshot of the family's day-to-day routines, activities, and interactions and which of those may be challenging,

- identifies the family's concerns, priorities, and resources related to enhancing the development of their child, and

- provides recommendations and information to share with other team members in preparation for the child's eligibility evaluation and/or assessment.

Process

The service coordinator completes this form with the family during first contacts. It should be explained to the family why the information requested on this page will be useful in planning the evaluation and/or assessment and in the development of the IFSP. Assure the family that only the information they want included will be written on the IFSP and they will have additional opportunities to share this type of information with team members.

Note: Form C is NOT intended to be handed to the family to complete on their own. IDEA regulations require that the identification of the family's concerns, priorities, and resources (family assessment) be based on a personal interview with the family and with the family's concurrence. A personal interview should be conversational and may include different methods, some of which are described below.

Instructions for Completing Form C

Date(s) this Information Gathered: Enter the month, date, and year of the date(s) you gathered the information on this page.

Family: Who are the people living in your home? Please include names and relationships. Include ages and gender of children. This section includes information about the immediate family and/or the people who live in the same household with the child who has been referred. The name of each person and their relationship to the child is listed in this section. The age and gender of each child who lives in the household is also listed in this section.

Daily Routines: What are your child's and your family's daily activities? Where does your child spend the day? With whom does your child regularly interact? (Include your child's activities, routines and favorite toys.) What activities, routines, and places are challenging to your child and family? This section provides the family an opportunity to identify typical routines, activities and places in the life of their child and family and what they enjoy the most and what they find most challenging. Family routines are events that customarily are part of the family's everyday life (e.g., mealtime, bath time, play time, car rides, nap time, grocery shopping time). Everyday activities are what a family does with their infant or toddler (going for a walk, feeding ducks at the park, playgroups, story time at the library). Everyday places are where families and children participate day-in and day-out, including home, childcare, neighborhood, library, park, or store.

> Resource Post-it #2
> You might say:
> I am going to ask you some questions about the typical activities and routines you and your child do during the day. I am asking about these activities because these are the times that children naturally learn and families naturally teach. This will also help us identify how we can effectively support your family. Can you tell me about your day? What are the typical routines and activities that you and your child are involved in? (You may need to ask some specific questions about waking up time, dressing, breakfast, playing, diaper changing, car travel, preparing meals, household chores, nap, bath time, story time, bedtime, etc.) What seems to go really well? What do you enjoy? What routines and activities are not going so well? Who are the important people who participate in your child's life? Are there any activities or places that you go (e.g., shopping, doctor's appointments) that occur on a less than regular basis (e.g., once a week, every few days)? Are there other events that occur fairly regularly or during the weekend (e.g., family gatherings, lessons, sport events for siblings)?

The "Routines-Based Interview (RBI)" (McWilliam, 2001) is recommended as a way of gathering information about the child's and family's typical daily routines and activities. More information on conducting the RBI can also be found in the online Early Steps Orientation Module Two: Early Steps Service Delivery System-Providing Services in Everyday Routines, Activities, and Places. The RBI will help the family and other team members identify routines such as mealtime, shopping trips, playtime, etc., with which the family would like help. The result of the RBI will be a prioritized list of child and family outcomes and information that will support functional intervention planning.

Family Concerns, Priorities, and Resources Sections

The identification of concerns, priorities and resources should also be conducted in a face-to-face interview/conversational format and build upon the discussion on family and childcare routines. If a Routines-based Interview (RBI) or similar tool is conducted, much information on concerns, priorities, and resources may already be identified. The Eco-map is a recommended method to gather more information, particularly about family resources and supports. This procedure provides a simple picture of the family's informal supports, including family, friends, and organizations, as well as formal supports such as medical providers and other services. The Eco-map helps the team understand who else is important in this child's life and whom the family views as resources that offer them support. Though this information is gathered during first contacts, it should be revisited once the family members have specific developmental information from the evaluation and assessment team or express concerns related to transitioning at age three.

> Note: If a Routines-based Interview (RBI), Eco-map, or a similar tool is used to gather any of the information on this form, you may attach the tool used and refer to it in the corresponding box or boxes, in lieu of transferring the information to Form C. This includes family assessment tools/forms developed by the Local Early Steps.

Family's Areas of Concern: What concerns do you have about your child's development and/or any other family challenges? Questions and concerns about your child may include issues such as feeding/nutrition (such as weight gain or loss, difficulties with eating, special diets or feeding equipment, elimination habits), sleeping, playing, communicating, behavior, health, transportation, food/shelter, etc. This section provides the family an opportunity to express their concerns regarding their child within the context of the family. Areas of concern can include but are not limited to the child's development, including achievement of milestones, or other family challenges. Concerns about the child could also include issues such as feeding, sleeping, playing, communicating, behavior, interaction with others, health, transportation, food/shelter, etc. This section may include issues other than those directly related to early intervention services for the child. All concerns related to enhancing the child's development and family functioning in view of the child's developmental needs should be discussed.

Priorities: Which concerns above would you like to focus on first? What do you hope Early Steps can help you with? This section provides the family an opportunity to prioritize their concerns listed above in the order of importance to the family. Of the concerns that have been identified, service coordinators and early intervention providers must assist the family in identifying those concerns that are most appropriate to be addressed at this time. These concerns are listed as priorities, and these priorities subsequently lead to outcomes expected to be achieved and listed on IFSP Form F.

Friends/Support/Resources: When you need help, who do you call and how do they help you? What types of resources do you have to meet your family's needs? These may include family strengths, childcare, transportation and financial resources. This section provides the family an opportunity to discuss the resources and supports, both formal and informal, they have available to them to help meet the needs of their child or the family's needs in everyday life (for example, family members or friends they see on a regular basis or can call upon in a time of need, their faith community, local support groups in which they participate). Resources also include special skills or knowledge that the family members may have that can be used to meet the needs of the child or family.

Recommendations for Evaluation and Assessment/Team Updates: These recommendations are the result of the accumulation of information gathered during first contacts that will assist in planning for the evaluation and/or assessment for the initial IFSP. This may include recommended disciplines, tools, modifications, and/or special circumstances needed for optimal evaluation/assessment.   The family's role in the evaluation/assessment process must be determined with the family at this time.
For subsequent IFSPs, this space can be used to make updates to the IFSP team, based on new information the family has provided of which the team should be aware. This section may also be used by the service coordinator during periodic reviews to authorize additional evaluation of the child based on new concerns, i.e., XYZ Early Steps authorizes evaluation of this child based on information on Forms B and C.

How to Use this Information

The information on Form C, combined with Form B, will be used to prepare for the child's individualized evaluation and/or assessment. The information gathered will also support the IFSP team to develop a functional IFSP that builds on family resources and supports to address their priorities and concerns related to the child's ability to participate in family and community life in ways that are important to the family.

Note: Forms A - C will be completed with the family as part of first contacts prior to the day of the initial evaluation and/or assessment of the child. A formal mechanism must be in place for the service coordinator to provide IFSP team members with a summary of first contact information, including screening results, if available, and the recommendations for the evaluation and/or assessment.

Rev. 11/1/2010

Form D: Your Child's Eligibility Evaluation Information

Purpose

This section of the IFSP

- records the child's level of functioning in all the required developmental domains: communication; self-help/adaptive; cognitive; physical (including fine and gross motor and vision and hearing); and social/emotional to determine eligibility, and

- Identifies the status of the child's eligibility for early intervention services.

- Documents the team's informed clinical opinion.

Process

The evaluation team determines eligibility for early intervention services by conducting an evaluation in all domains, with a focus in the area(s) in which first contact information and/or developmental screening indicated a concern, to determine the child's current developmental level. The family should be involved in planning for and conducting the evaluation.

The evaluation/assessment may take place immediately prior to the scheduled initial IFSP meeting or within a reasonably close amount of time, as determined by the family and evaluation/assessment team. Form D should be completed as part of the evaluation/assessment process and reviewed during the IFSP meeting, if needed. Form D serves as the written evaluation report.

Instructions for Completing Form D

(Complete Form D for the initial IFSP only)

For your child's first IFSP, an evaluation may be completed with your child to determine eligibility, prior to or during assessment. The eligibility information is recorded on this page.

Date of Evaluation (if performed): Enter the date of the evaluation to determine eligibility if it was completed as part of this IFSP.   This date will be the same as the assessment date on Form E if the evaluation and assessment are conducted concurrently.

Chronological Age: This is the child's age according to the calendar. For example, if a child is born on 5/23/09 and the IFSP is written on 9/28/10, the chronological age is 1 year, 4 months or 16 months.

Language Used: Enter the language(s) in which tests and other evaluation materials and procedures are administered.

Method(s) of Evaluation: Indicate method(s) and tool(s) used for the evaluation.

Test Instrument(s) Administered: Enter the names of the tool(s) used to conduct the evaluation.

Parent Report: Check if parent report was used.

Professional Observation: Check if professional observation was used.

> Resource Post-it #3
> About Informed Clinical Opinion
> Informed clinical opinion makes use of multiple sources of qualitative and quantitative information to assist in forming a determination of eligibility regarding difficult to measure aspects of current developmental status and the potential need for early intervention. Among more traditional information such as test results, the information includes:
> - parent input
> - childcare provider comments
> - background/history
> - medical records
> - impressions about skills
> - systematic observations of the child's abilities and weaknesses
> - emotional and temperamental patterns
> Informed clinical opinion involves synthesizing all of the information gathered about the child.

Collateral Information/Source: Check if collateral information was used and identify the source of the information. Collateral information should be filed in the child's record.

> Note: The Eligibility Evaluation Results section does not need to be completed if the evaluation and the assessment are conducted as one event with the same team.   A reference to Form E is sufficient.

Eligibility Evaluation Results: This area is used to document the findings of the eligibility evaluation in the five developmental areas below. Evidence of informed clinical opinion should be included within each section as appropriate:

1. Using Hands and Body (Gross/Fine Motor Skills)
2. Eating, Dressing, and Toileting (Self-Help/Adaptive Skills)
3. Expressing and Responding to Feelings and Interacting with Others (Social/Emotional)
4. Playing, Thinking, Exploring (Academic/Cognitive including pre-literacy skills)
5. Understanding and Communicating (Receptive and Expressive Communication)

Results: Indicate the standard score used in determining eligibility in the right-hand column. A standard score must be documented on Form D.

Note: The child's vision and hearing may be evaluated as part of the eligibility evaluation and recorded on Form E. Every child's vision and hearing must be assessed either as part of the eligibility evaluation or the assessment. The Parent Interview Protocol for Child Hearing and Vision Skills is recommended to assess vision and hearing.

Evaluation Team Signatures

The eligibility evaluation team is the same as the assessment team. Please see Form E for signatures. Check if the eligibility evaluation team is the same as the assessment team. If the evaluation and assessment team are the same individuals, they only need to sign once on Form E.

The eligibility evaluation team is different from the assessment team. Please sign below. Check if the eligibility evaluation team is different from the assessment team. If the evaluation team is different from the assessment team, the evaluation team members must sign and list credentials on Form D and the assessment team on Form E.

Eligibility Determination

Eligible for Early Steps (Part C: Early Intervention) based on the following: Check this box if the child is found eligible for Early Steps.

Established Condition of: Check this box if the child has an established condition and fill in the blank with the appropriate diagnosis. If the local school district serves children birth to three, it will be necessary to provide copies of the physician's statement to document eligibility for children with an established condition.

Developmental Delay in the area(s) of: Check this box if the child has a developmental delay, and fill in the blank with the appropriate developmental domain(s).

Not eligible for Early Steps (Part C: Early Intervention) based on evaluations completed this day and the IFSP does not need to be completed. The evaluation team makes the following recommendations to the family: Check this box if the child is found not eligible for Early Steps and write any recommendations that the team has for the family. The team should suggest strategies for providing natural learning opportunities to increase skills when they identify the child has the ability to perform certain skills, but lacks the opportunity. Recommendations may also include resources and information to address family concerns and any appropriate referrals.

Note: If the child is found not eligible for Early Steps, the parent(s) must receive written prior notice, including procedural safeguards (Summary of Family Rights). The parent(s) are not required to sign the IFSP or any other form, unless the Local Early Steps requires this. They should receive a copy of Forms A - D of the IFSP. Although Forms A - D of the IFSP are completed for an ineligible child, an IFSP date should not be entered into the Early Steps data system for an ineligible child. The child's record can then be closed.

How to Use this Information

The eligibility evaluation information on Form D is used to establish eligibility and will only be completed for children without an established condition. For those children, Form D in its entirety is completed for the initial IFSP, however, the Eligibility Determination section of Form D should be completed for all children and this information will be included on subsequent IFSPs. It is rare that the basis of the child's eligibility will change from year to year; therefore the eligibility information from the initial IFSP can be repeated in subsequent IFSPs.

Form E: Your Child's Assessment Information

Purpose

This section of the IFSP

- identifies the child's current and emerging developmental skills focusing on the child's and family's everyday routines and activities and the child's participation in natural learning opportunities, and
- provides a description of the routines and activities that are going well in order to build on existing skills, strengths and learning opportunities and a description of the routines and activities that the child and family find difficult.

Process

Every eligible child will receive an assessment. Form E should be completed as part of the assessment process and reviewed at the IFSP meeting, if needed. Form E serves as the written assessment report.

Instructions for Completing Form E

A developmental assessment is completed with your child and/or ongoing assessment information is gathered. This information helps us understand your child's developmental strengths, as well as some of the things that are challenging for your child and may be affecting how he/she is able to participate in family and community activities.

Date of Assessment: Enter the date the assessment was conducted. This date may be the same as the evaluation date on Form D.

Chronological Age: This is the child's age according to the calendar. For example, if a child is born on 5/23/09 and the IFSP is written on 9/28/10, the chronological age is 1 year, 4 months or 16 months.

Language Used: Enter the language(s) in which tests and other evaluation materials and procedures are administered.

Method(s) of Assessment: Indicate method(s) and tool(s) used for the assessment.

Test Instrument(s) Administered: Enter the names of the tool(s) used to conduct the assessment.

Parent Report/Interview Tool: Check if parent report was used and identify any tools utilized.

Professional Observation: Check if professional observation was used.

Collateral Information/Source: Check if collateral information was used and identify the source. Collateral information should be filed in the child's record.

Summary of Present Status: Abilities, Strengths, and Needs: This area is used to describe the child's current status in each of the five required developmental areas below from the family's perspective of what is working well or what is challenging in their everyday routines and activities, team observations, and other relevant information:

1. Using Hands and Body (Gross/Fine Motor Skills)
2. Eating, Dressing, and Toileting (Self-Help/Adaptive Skills)
3. Expressing and Responding to Feelings and Interacting with Others (Social/Emotional)
4. Playing, Thinking, Exploring (Academic/Cognitive including pre-literacy skills)
5. Understanding and Communicating (Receptive and Expressive Communication)

This section should provide a meaningful and useful summary that integrates information gathered during the IFSP process prior to the assessment.   The descriptions in each of the developmental areas should not be lists of the assessment items on which the child did well and those he did not do. Instead, the team should summarize what they know about the child's and the family's various abilities, strengths, and needs as they are demonstrated through everyday routines and activities. It is not necessary to describe the child's development using specific age equivalents, scores, or age ranges unless the parent expresses a need to have this information on the IFSP. If this information is used, it may be included within the summary section.

There should be logical links between the information included here and that is included on Form C: Your Family's Routines/Concerns/Priorities/Resources. For example, if on Form C, the parent's share that they want to learn ways to help their child behave/ manage challenging behavior and describe what a difficult time the child has with dressing and bathing, the description of the child's eating, dressing, and toileting and his social and emotional development should provide additional information about these concerns.

The outcomes and strategies to be developed should be reflective of and compatible with the family's perspective of what is working well or what is challenging in their everyday routines and activities as described in this section.

Things we like and things we do well: Summarize what the team knows about the child's and the family's various abilities and strengths in each of the above areas, as they relate to participating in daily routines, activities and learning opportunities, including the child's current and emerging skills and strengths in each area.

Things that we need help with: Summarize what the team knows about what the child and family finds difficult, avoids, or that prevent the child from actively participating in daily routines, activities, and learning opportunities in each of the above areas.

Vision and Hearing Status: Enter the current status of the child's vision and hearing. The Parent Interview Protocol for Child Hearing and Vision Skills is recommended to assess vision and hearing.

Observations/Comments: Enter relevant observations and additional concerns identified during the assessment process that will help in the development of the IFSP.

All assessors involved in the assessment of the child are required to complete the following sections:

Name of Assessor: Enter the name of the assessor in the space provided.

Discipline: Enter the assessor's credential (e.g., ITDS, SLP, etc.).

Signature: The assessor's signature is required in the space provided.

How to Use this Information

Form E provides a picture of how the child's current abilities and challenges in all areas of development affect his or her ability to participate in family and community life and serves as the link between the evaluation/assessment and the plan to address the IFSP outcomes. Assessment is ongoing and will help to guide intervention strategies throughout the child's involvement with Early Steps.

OUTCOME #: ____ What would you like to see happen for your child and family as a result of Early Steps supports and services?

GOALS TIMELINES AND CRITERIA FOR PROGRESS: When will we review progress toward this outcome and what will progress look like?

STRATEGIES: Who will do what within your child's everyday routines, activities, and places to achieve this outcome?

Rev. 11/1/2010

early steps

Form F: Your Family's Outcomes

Purpose

This section of the IFSP

- identifies the major outcomes to be achieved for the child and family that address family priorities and concerns,
- determines the short-term goals needed to reach each outcome, and
- states the strategies that support the outcome within the child's and family's everyday routines, activities, and places.

Process

The entire IFSP team participates in completing this step of the IFSP process, with the service coordinator facilitating the process. All team members should come to the IFSP meeting with an idea of the family's routines, concerns, and priorities.

Once the family has identified the outcomes for their child and family through team discussion, the team develops short-term goals and strategies to support the child's abilities wherever the family lives, learns, and plays. The team works with the family to identify ways to support their child's participation in everyday routines, activities, and places. The decision regarding what specific supports/services will be provided and by whom, must occur only after the development of outcomes.

When writing outcomes in the family's words, it is not necessary to write down everything they say or the first words they share. Meaningful outcomes are developed with the family through discussion, so that all members of the team understand what they are working towards and why it is important to the family.

Directions for Completing Form F

Outcome #: _____ Enter the number of the outcome that is written on this page. Only one outcome should be written per Form F.

What would you like to see happen for your child and family as a result of Early Steps supports and services? Enter information in this section that the family wants their child to be able to do as a result of intervention. The outcome must be determined with the family and should address concerns and priorities identified in the process so far (i.e., Form C, the results of a RBI or similar process, etc.). Outcomes should be statements of measurable results that are expected to be achieved for the child and the family, including pre-literacy and language skills, as developmentally appropriate for the child.

There are different "schools" of writing outcomes that vary in the amount of detail required. It is important for the family to be able to describe what the change will look like. The IFSP team may need to talk about the desired change so they can develop an outcome statement that includes enough detail for the family and the IFSP team to know when the outcome has been achieved. The outcome should directly relate to a family priority or concern that is documented on IFSP Form C.

An easy way to remember the components of a functional outcome is to practice the "ABC" model, which includes the following three components:

1. _Audience:_ This will specify the _"who"_ that is the focus of this outcome. On an IFSP this is either going to be the child, family member, or other primary caregiver (e.g. childcare provider, grandparent, etc.).

2. _Behavior or Performance:_ For outcomes targeting child development, this should be an activity that is observable, measurable, and repeatable. For family directed outcomes, the behavior may just have a definite beginning and an end. The behavior component of the outcome should indicate "_who is going to do what._"

3. _Condition or Circumstances:_ This is the situation within which the expected behavior should occur. Identifying the circumstances involves determining under what conditions the child and family are likely to use the target behavior and how it is relevant to the child and family's everyday life.

    Example of ABC Model: While sitting in his high chair, Luke will feed himself using his fingers and eventually his spoon so that he gets enough to eat at each meal and doesn't have to be fed.

A. Audience: Luke

B. Behavior: feed himself using his fingers and eventually his spoon

C. Condition/Circumstances: While sitting in his high chair

You may also include an "in order to" part of the outcome as an optional component. The rationale for the outcome should demonstrate how the outcome is functional; what is the relevance to the child and family's life. Not all outcomes will have this component, but it is an effective way to help parents identify exactly how achieving the outcome will produce a real change in the child's and family's life. In the example above, the ABC Model includes an "in order to" component: "so that he gets enough to eat at each meal and doesn't have to be fed."

Goals, Timelines, and Criteria for Progress: When will we review progress toward this outcome and what will progress look like? Goals are short-term in nature, reflect the ABC model, and include a target date for goal achievement. The team should expect observable, measurable progress and be ready to change the plan if progress is not evident. Timeframes should be written in terms that are meaningful to the family - dates of family events and celebrations, whenever possible.

The following might be some appropriate goals for Luke:

- By Thanksgiving, Luke will use his fingers to feed himself at least two food items
- By Christmas, Luke will sit in his high chair for an entire dinner meal
- By Christmas, Luke will pick up his spoon independently

Note: The current IFSP or a separate document may be used as the Plan of Care for children receiving early intervention sessions. It is important that goals are functional, observable, measurable, and specify a timeframe. Goals should be written for every outcome whether or not the IFSP is serving as the Plan of Care. Outcomes and goals are developed prior to service decisions. Services should be selected based on the identified outcomes and goals.

Strategies: Who will do what within your child's everyday routines, activities, and places to achieve this outcome? Before completing this section, the IFSP team should brainstorm all of the strategies/activities that should be considered for addressing this outcome within the child's and family's everyday routines, activities, and places. The discussion should focus on what the various team members (including family members and other caregivers) will do in order to meet the outcome. This should be a team process and build on the information the family has shared with the team regarding routines and utilize formal and informal resources.

The strategies should identify:

- how team members will be involved
- who will be involved (e.g., parents, childcare staff, ITDS, speech therapist, etc.) and describe what they will do (e.g., training/ education activities, coaching, providing resource materials, modify the environment, positioning, or equipment, consulting between providers/ family, exploring/identifying options, planning, teaching, supporting, etc.)
- where learning opportunities will be maximized to address the outcome within the child's everyday routines, activities, and places.

> Resource Post-it #4
> Strategies/Activities Checklist
> 1. Is the strategy directly related to the desired behavior (versus so general that the attainment of the outcome could be a fluke)?
> 2. Is the strategy worded in a way most ordinary people would understand (i.e., no jargon)?
> 3. Is the strategy the simplest, most direct approach to attaining the outcome (versus "exercises" or "stimulation")?
> 4. Is the strategy developmentally appropriate (i.e., based on play and ordinary early childhood routines)?
> 5. Is the strategy something regular caregivers can carry out (versus just applicable to professionals)?
> 6. If the strategy involves assistance, is there a plan to fade assistance?
> 7. Does the strategy involve the use of instruction (versus getting the child to tolerate something)?
> 8. Does the strategy specify what someone (child or adult) will do (versus "Kinesha will develop _____")?
> 9. For each strategy, can one answer, "Why would we do this?"
> (R. A. McWilliam, 2001)

The following might be some appropriate strategies for Luke:

Strategies:

- Parents will continue to give Luke finger foods and be sure that he has some finger foods at each meal so that he can practice using his fingers.
- Mother will decrease what Luke is fed by bottle, so that Luke is hungrier at meal time.
- Parents will put small pieces of food into the wells of a muffin pan so he has to use his finger and thumb.
- Jacob (brother) will show Luke how he eats with a spoon during mealtime.
- EI providers will give parents suggestions for appropriate spoon foods and explore different types of spoons.

Form G: Your Family's Supports and Services

Purpose

This section of the IFSP

- summarizes and authorizes the services and supports that the child and family will receive to address all of the outcomes,
- identifies modifications to supports/services as a result of a periodic review,
- provides documentation of required prior notice to parents of modifications,
- provides documentation, for children in custody of Department of Children and Families, of consent to medical care and treatment as modified,
- identifies other supports and services that may be helpful to the child and family, but are not covered by Early Steps, and
- identifies the Primary Service Provider (PSP) for the child and family.

Process

In the process of identifying supports and services, the roles of the various team members must be discussed and described so that it is clear which team members will be providing what services, using what methodology, when and where. Much of this information has been reviewed as part of the discussion regarding the strategies to achieve the outcome. In the course of determining the specific services that need to be authorized, the team may need to go back to the strategies and broadly define who will be involved and how the strategy will be carried out in order to determine the frequency, intensity, and length of the service.

NATURAL ENVIRONMENT JUSTIFICATION: Supports and services must be provided to your child in settings that are natural or typical for children of the same age (natural environments). An explanation related to existing administrative barriers, proposed benefits of a location, or the inability of members of the IFSP team to provide the service in the natural environment, while not considered a justification, must also be entered.

Form I

Form I: Your Family's Transition Plan

Purpose

This section of the IFSP

- documents the steps that will be taken to support the transition of the child and family from Part C services to the Preschool services under Part B, to the extent that those services are appropriate or other services that may be available, if appropriate, and

- documents the date and participants of the transition conference.

Process

The service coordinator is the key player in ensuring a smooth transition and is responsible for initiating and coordinating transition planning. There is a need to ensure a seamless transition for children at age three and their families with timely access to appropriate services. Families need to move smoothly from one program or system to another with continuity of services. By helping the family to identify their child's needs within his/her daily routines and assisting the family to build on their competencies and use natural supports throughout their early intervention experience, they will be more prepared for the transition out of Early Steps.

Note: Form I is only required for transition at age three. To plan for transitions other than the transition at age 3 (i.e., hospital to home, home to childcare, program to program, etc.), identify the concerns/priorities of the family/IFSP team and develop outcomes on Form F, as appropriate. Record other transition activities in the case notes.

Purpose

This section of the IFSP

- documents the dates of the periodic reviews of the IFSP and the IFSP team members participating,
- documents the modifications or revisions to the outcomes or services that are needed as a result of the review, and
- documents support and direction of the ITDS.

Process

A periodic review is intended to review the entire plan with the family to address:

- the degree in which progress toward achieving the outcomes is being made,
- whether or not additional needs have been identified based on ongoing assessment/observation, and
- whether or not modification or revision of the outcomes or services is necessary.

Instructions for Completing Form J

Outcome #: Enter the number of the outcome you are reviewing.

Date Reviewed: Enter the date of review.

Describe Progress/Modification (If these modifications result in a change of service, please complete the Modifications to Services section on Form G): This is where the team reviews progress on the outcome from the perspective of those involved and a brief statement of progress is written.   As a result of this discussion, one of the following boxes is checked:

Resource Post-it #6

- no longer fit well within the child's and family's everyday routines, activities, and places

Status (Check One):

Outcome reached: In this case, the team explores with the family if there are other priorities they would like to address at this time. If so, a new outcome is developed. If an outcome is deemed achieved as a result of a periodic review and a service is terminated, the Modifications to Services section of Form G must be completed.

New outcome developed (# __): If a new outcome is written, a new Form F is added to the IFSP and the outcome numbered. If a new outcome is written as a result of a periodic review and requires new services, the Modifications to Services section of Form G must be completed.

If the modifications are made on the outcome page, they must be dated to correspond with the review date and the original information must stay intact.

> If these modifications result in a change of service, please complete information on Form G. If the modifications require changes to services, the Modifications to Services section of Form G must be completed. If a new outcome is written as a result of a review and requires new services, or a service is terminated, the Modifications to Services section of Form G must be completed.

Team Member Signatures:

Print Name / Credentials Indicates a LHCP providing direction and support to ITDS, if applicable: Enter the name and credentials of each team member participating in the review. If a Licensed Healthcare Professional (LHCP) is providing direction and support to an ITDS, enter an asterisk () beside the name.

Date: Fill in the date signatures were obtained.

Note: If the IFSP is being used as the Plan of Care, the signature of the Licensed Healthcare Professional who prepares and reviews the IFSP must be included. For a Medicaid eligible child who is receiving early intervention sessions from an ITDS, it must be signed by the appropriate Licensed Healthcare Professional and the ITDS for whom they are providing support and direction. If the IFSP is not being used as the Plan of Care, then the components and requirements of the Plan of Care, as specified in the Medicaid Early Intervention Services Coverage and Limitations Handbook, must be followed.
